Former CEO Reflects on Agency's Success

When asked to serve on the Board of Directors for Hospice in January 1986, (just five months after the first patient was admitted), I never dreamed that the board position would be the beginning of a twenty-three year association with this wonderful organization. I witnessed incredible growth and change while serving on the Board and then as the first part-time CEO and later CFO. As I reflect on our humble beginnings in a small, donated space in the basement of the Community Drug Store building (when we had a couple of staff members and a few patients) and then visit a dear friend at the state-of-the-art campus on Hospice Way, I'm amazed at how far we've come. Our local Hospice program evolved steadily through the years, experiencing major growth in 1991, when we became Medicare/Medicaid certified, and again last year with the opening of the in-patient unit. Hospice of Davidson County has always been a true community endeavor, and its remarkable success over the years is attributable to the following:

- Excellent, dedicated staff members who view their work as a mission.
- Incredible community support in the form of both resources and volunteers.
- Committed Boards of Directors who so willingly give of their time and expertise.
- Exceptionally strong Board Presidents who have made a real difference in the organization.

Hospice has been a blessing to this community for the past twenty-five years, and I'm confident that it will continue to grow and change as needed in order to always provide the best Hospice care possible. How fortunate we are to have this organization! "THANK YOU" to the many, many, people who made it possible.

From the Board President . . .

Barbara Smith

I had an opportunity recently to sit down with Windy Cole-Hedrick, Volunteer Manager at HODC, to talk about all the wonderful things that HODC volunteers are doing. Hospice volunteers generously give their time, talents and passion to support the patients, families and staff of Hospice of Davidson County. We are blessed to have loyal and compassionate volunteers who share in the Hospice mission and answer a very special calling to serve others.

Hospice of Davidson County recognizes the magnitude and worth of our dedicated volunteers and how their support impacts our nonprofit organization. Hospice of DC is fortunate to have volunteers who fulfill so many roles within our agency including Hinkle Hospice House administrative and patient/family support, Home Care administrative support, bereavement support, special events, speaker's bureau and fundraisers. Let's also remember the volunteers who bake birthday cakes for our patients and spend hours quilting, sewing butterfly pillows and crocheting prayer quilts, shawls and caps for our patients.

This has been an eventful year, richly blessed and made possible through the many volunteers who work tirelessly and give of themselves wholeheartedly. So far in this calendar year, our HODC volunteers have worked more than 4,000 hours. That is a lot of volunteer time! We are also fortunate to have leaders at HODC such as Windy Cole-Hedrick who truly make a difference in the lives of others.

From the Desk of Lisa Hathaway, CEO . . .

As we quickly approach the fall of this year, I am reminded of the passing of our seasons. As individuals, as families and as professionals we often find ourselves walking through different seasons in life. I believe that regardless of the season, we are called to support each other to the best of our ability.

At Hospice of DC, we embrace each season and rely on the interdisciplinary team concept to provide global care for both the patient and family. Part of the hospice philosophy recognizes that we not only care for the patient, but also care for the caregivers as well.

The patient needs the intense nursing care we provide and the family often needs emotional and psychosocial services. Through the interdisciplinary team, we are able to meet the needs of the patient and family unit as a whole.

This is what makes hospice services so unique. We meet the patient and family during whatever season they may be in and provide them with comprehensive and holistic care. As staff, we feel honored that patients and caregivers let us into their lives during their individual season and personal journey. It is such an intimate time that families walk through and the Hospice care team is there to provide support, a personal touch of compassion and the ability to help them through their end of life journey.

So, during the different seasons of life, reach out and give compassion to those around you. At Hospice of Davidson County, we take on that challenge daily and consider ourselves blessed to walk through the seasons of life with our patients and families.

HODC Earns ACHC Certification

*Dana Swicegood, RN
Director of Quality and Compliance*

Over a period of six months, the staff at Hospice of Davidson County underwent an extensive "boot camp" that consisted of educational in-services, competencies and exams. These were all conducted in preparation for our certification from the Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC). Although HODC is not required to seek this added level of accreditation, we pursued this as a sign of our commitment to provide superior care for the patients we serve. ACHC calls agencies to excel above the basic regulations set forth by Medicare and requires that service providers meet stricter and more extensive standards.

2010 has been a special and unique year. For the first time, ACHC was credentialed to grant deemed status by Medicare. In layman's terms, they were authorized to grant HODC certification by ACHC as well as Medicare billing privileges. HODC is proud to announce that we were granted certification and deemed status on August 1, 2010. Additionally, staff was commended by the ACHC surveyor on our knowledge of company policies and procedures as well as our display of compassionate care given toward patients.

Over the course of the last six months there have been numerous challenges and changes in preparation for the ACHC survey. The collaborative blend among experienced tenured staff and new, visionary staff, created a cohesive working environment of accountability, ownership and pride. Thanks to our staff for a job well done – WE DID IT!

On arrival, guests were serenaded by members of Opera Carolina.

Community Turns Out for Annual Benefit

Nearly 300 guests attended this year's annual, "Friends of Hospice" gala on August 27. Held at Childress Vineyards, the theme for the benefit was, "An Evening in Tuscany." Guests were treated to a wide variety of Italian foods, wines from area vineyards and special musical entertainment from members of Opera Carolina. The annual fundraiser, which raised nearly $20,000 for area residents with terminal illness, included a live and silent auction. Art, jewelry, pottery, event passes, themed gift baskets and gift certificates were featured as part of the silent auction. Dr. Lee Jessup acted as honorary Master of Ceremonies for the live auction with special guest and auctioneer Reynolds Shoaf. Auction packages included original art, furniture, adventure and destination packages, opera passes, themed dinners and a tour for two of Tuscany, Italy.

Guests received a 25th Anniversary Woozie® (wine cooler), and had the opportunity to purchase a private label chardonnay, Amici Vino, produced for the agency's 25th year by Weathervane Winery of Welcome. The commemorative 25th Anniversary cooler and private label wine remain on sale and may be purchased through the agency's administrative office.

Motorcycle Enthusiasts Honor Terminally Ill

Hospice of Davidson County's annual, "Ride for Angels" motorcycle benefit raised over $10,000 for Davidson County residents facing terminal illness. Hosted from Denton FarmPark, over 240 motorcycles participated in the ride which was held on July 17. Initially a local event, the escorted ride has grown to include riders from as far away as Virginia and South Carolina.

This year marked the third year that the agency partnered with Lexington Style Wings, a local chapter representing the Gold Wing Road Riders Association to host the benefit ride. Members of the 2010 volunteer event committee included A.C. Pennington, Betty Dye, Carol Sluder, Deborah Hattaway, Greg Wood, Kathy Miller, Laura Owen, Mark Beck, Lynn & Nick Nicholson, Ronnie Foster, Tammy Troublefield and Windy Cole-Hedrick.

Riders were eligible for over two dozen items donated by area businesses. A 50/50 raffle was also held during the event. Sponsors for the ride included The Buzzard's Nest Sports Pub, DT Lube and Time Out Hut. Southern Breeze provided musical entertainment for the event and was sponsored by Silver Eagle, LLC.

Golfers Raise Dollars for End-of-Life Care

Hospice of Davidson County held their 3rd Annual Golf Benefit on April 10, at the Lexington Golf Club. Over $5,500 was raised for Davidson County residents with terminal illness with proceeds designated for specialized end-of-life care.

The event kicked off with a 50/50 helicopter ball drop courtesy of HeliVision, of Concord, and a fajita bar luncheon hosted by The City Club. Sixteen teams competed for a number of prizes. First place went to Jimmy Troutman, Fred Smith, Tony Cook and Butch Leonard, representing Troutman's BBQ. Second place team members included David Shaw, Mike Davis, David Payne and Don Ross. Justin Sink, Eric Tang and Rodney Owens were closest to the pin winners on the Par 3's. Other winners included Paul Lohr, longest drive; Dave Harris, straightest drive; Tony Cook, 50/50 winner; and David Yates, art drawing.

Volunteer committee members included Chad Hodges, Gail Varner, Kaye Smith-Orman, Ken Easter, Laura Owen, Melissa Wynn, Tammy Troublefield and Windy Cole-Hedrick. Sponsors for the tournament included The City Club of Lexington, Modern Infiniti, Orrell's Food Service, SignWorks of North Carolina, Silver Eagle LLC, Walmart and Wynncom.

Supporting Patient Caregivers

Cindy Hicks-Chisenhall, MSW, LCSW

One person caring about another represents life's greatest value.

— Jim Rohn

Hospice care is designed to support the entire family so that patients can live in the familiarity and comfort of their home. Although we have a new beautiful building at the Hinkle Hospice House, studies have shown that 70% of Americans want to die at home (Robert Wood Johnson Foundation). Staff's role at HODC is to help families manage the signs and symptoms of death and dying. Families are oftentimes, stretched to the limit, emotionally and physically. Their entire focus is on caring for their loved one, with very little time for themselves. Caregivers frequently experience increasing levels of stress and lack the ability to adequately cope. The emotions a caregiver experiences are varied as we hear some of the following questions/statements on a regular basis.

Hospice Sabbath

November is National Hospice Month and on November 14th, Hospice of Davidson County will be observing Hospice Sabbath. Hospice Sabbath honors the spirituality that is integral to care at the end of life. Hospice Sabbath is held at churches in Davidson County and across the United States. Hospice Sabbath gives families, friends and the community an opportunity to recognize the special ministry that hospice care provides and to remember the hospice patients who were served during the last year. Each participating organization will receive a white rose and information about the role hospice has in our community. Please join us in recognizing the ministry of hospice that helps persons live with hope and dignity until the very end of their life.

Please contact Charlie Patrick, M Div, Spiritual Counselor at 475-5444 ext 2112, if you would like a member of our speaker's bureau to share more of the hospice story and speak at your church or organization on this day.

1. Fear and uncertainty about the future: "Will I know when my love is close to death? How will I survive without them?"
2. Fear over their ability or inability to care for their loved one: "I don't know how to do this?"
3. Feelings of anger towards the individual who is sick and can no longer care for themselves: "I can't believe they are doing this to me."
4. Worry over finances: "How will I pay my bills without his check?"
5. Fear and frustration that "this will never end."
6. Feeling guilty about having any of these thoughts and feelings.

It is important that caregivers are reassured that these feelings are normal and a part of the process. Sometimes, simply being present and allowing the caregiver to verbalize these feelings is enough. At others times, it can require the involvement of HODC staff or other professionals.

But, there are many things that a layperson can do to help someone who is a caregiver:

1. Encourage them to allow you and others to help. Don't ask "What can I do to help?" Offer to do something specific like fixing a meal for them, walking their dog, doing their laundry.
2. Remind them of the importance of maintaining healthy food intake and getting enough rest.
3. Encourage them to attend a local caregiver support group and offer to stay with their family member during this time so they can attend.
4. Encourage them to talk about their thoughts and feelings; be it to you or a professional.
5. Remind them that they can't do it all and that this is okay.

HODC can offer additional support to the caregivers who may be struggling as we focus not only on the patients we serve, but equally on the family members. With HODC support, the hospice aide can teach families how to physically move and bathe someone who is bedbound, the nurse can assure that the medications are helping the patient to be comfortable, the social worker can help normalize their emotions and provide counseling regarding anticipatory grief issues, the Spiritual Counselor can support them in their faith journey and the Volunteer can provide respite for the caregiver.

Remember that along with the support of friends, family and HODC staff, families can be empowered with the ability to care for their loved one which can decrease caregiver stress related to the care they are providing. And, in the words of Jim Rohn, this is "life's greatest value."

Agency Recipient of Two Eagle Scout Projects

Windy Cole-Hedrick, Volunteer Manager

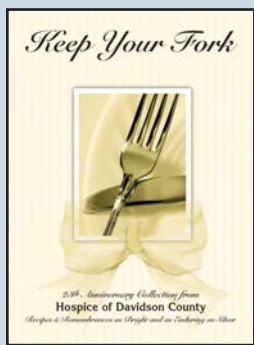

Hospice of Davidson County has been very fortunate recently to have two Boy Scouts complete their Eagle Scout projects here on the Hospice of DC campus. In July, Logan McDonald completed a prayer and meditation labyrinth for patients, families, volunteers and staff. The labyrinth offers a special place on the grounds to reflect and meditate. Cunningham Brick kindly furnished the brick pavers.

Aaron Springer, a member of Boy Scout Troop 200, First UMC Lexington, completed his Eagle Scout project in August. Thanks to his efforts and a generous contribution from Woodmen of the World, Hospice of Davidson County now proudly displays the stars and stripes of the American Flag in front of the Hinkle Hospice House. HODC volunteer, Parker McLendon, was a great help in facilitating this project. On September 11, a flag dedication ceremony was held with staff, volunteers, fire and rescue personnel, law enforcement, and government officials in attendance.

The Board and staff are proud of Logan and Aaron for successfully completing their projects and recognize how they enhance our campus and provide added comfort for our patients and families.

Hospice Volunteers Compile Agency's First Cookbook

The Volunteer Cookbook Committee is proud to present the Hospice of Davidson County, 25th Anniversary cookbook, "Keep Your Fork". Volunteers Virginia Podgaysky, Brynda Bullard, Doris Curry, Diane Helmstetler and Pat Medlin worked diligently over several months to produce the cookbook entitled, "Recipes & Remembrances as Bright and as Enduring as Silver".

Over 500 recipes are included in the cookbook and they are expected to arrive late October. "Recipes and Remembrances" will make an excellent holiday or shower gift for newlyweds. Your cookbook purchase helps equip Hospice of Davidson County to provide care for patients and families with compassion and dignity during their final days. To reserve your copy, contact Hospice of DC, 475.5444. The cost of the cookbook is $15.00.

Agency Hosts Staff "Family Day" Joan Blevins, Director of Human Resources

On Saturday, September 11, Hospice of Davidson County had its first "Family Day" at Finch Park. We celebrated with grilled hotdogs, hamburgers, desserts and all the trimmings. A luau was the theme for the event and the children received gift bags, enjoyed face paintings and had their picture taken in luau attire. We had over forty guests participating, which was a great turnout for our first year.

We held this special event in remembrance of the 9/11 tragedy of nine years ago and recognize the many blessings and freedoms we have today. We would like to thank the staff and families for all their hard work and attending our first "Family Day" event.

Lisa Hathaway, CEO, with husband Everett and sons.
